Mesa, AZ –September 17, 2025– Every missing-person case begins with the same devastating reality: lost time. The hours between when someone vanishes and when the world notices are often the difference between rescue and regret. Find Me Alive was created to close that gap.

More than an app, Find Me Alive is a living safety net—a proactive system designed to help families, friends, and communities notice absence before it becomes disappearance. Built on the principles of accountability, connection, and rapid response, the platform transforms silence into signal.

“At its heart, Find Me Alive is simple,” said the program’s founder. “It helps people check in, it keeps a private breadcrumb trail of where they should be, and it mobilizes communities the moment something feels wrong. We don’t wait for loss. We build safety before silence begins.”

Key Features of Find Me Alive include:

- Daily Check-Ins — Quick phone calls, text replies, or app taps confirm safety in seconds. If a check-in is missed, trusted contacts are alerted immediately.
- Location Recording — Private, secure travel logs that only unlock if someone goes missing, giving families and law enforcement a verified starting point.
- Community Response Network — Volunteers, schools, workplaces, and neighbors mobilize instantly when an alert is triggered, ensuring searches begin in minutes, not days.
- Family & Law Enforcement Integration — Verified data empowers families to act with clarity and ensures authorities respond with speed and accuracy.

Designed for parents, students, professionals, seniors, and anyone who doesn't want silence to go unnoticed, Find Me Alive is a flexible, scalable solution that strengthens entire communities. Its subscription model, institutional partnerships, and insurance integrations ensure long-term sustainability while keeping the platform accessible.

Unlike traditional systems that begin only after someone is reported missing, Find Me Alive is preventive. It shortens response times, increases recovery chances, and creates peace of mind for families worldwide.

"Find Me Alive isn't just technology—it's a movement," said the founder. "It's about building a culture where no one slips through the cracks, and where communities are ready to act together."
